[3] 次の英文は、ある日街中で Yoshiko Iwamoto を見かけた 4 人の話と、のちに Yoshiko が当日のことを語った文章です。英文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。

Report 1: Kenta Yamano (carpenter)

I was walking from the coffee shop to the movie theater when I saw Mr. Iwamoto's daughter with another girl at 11:30 a.m. They came out of the theater in front of me, and they looked at the magazines in the bookstore for a minute. Yoshiko's friend had a little bag in her hand.

Report 2: Takako Yoshizawa (teacher)

I was with my daughter in the park when I saw Yoshiko Iwamoto at 9:15 a.m. Yoshiko went into the flower shop between two hotels. She had a small paper bag. She soon came out with another girl. The girl looked angry at first, but after Yoshiko gave the bag to her and said something, she smiled. Then they both ran east and turned left at the coffee shop.

Report 3: Naomi Morita (friend)

Yoshiko looked very tired and was about to cry in front of the post office when I saw her at 9:05 a.m. As soon as she ran out of the bike shop, she went into the supermarket next to the bike shop. At that time, she had no bike with her and had nothing in her hands.

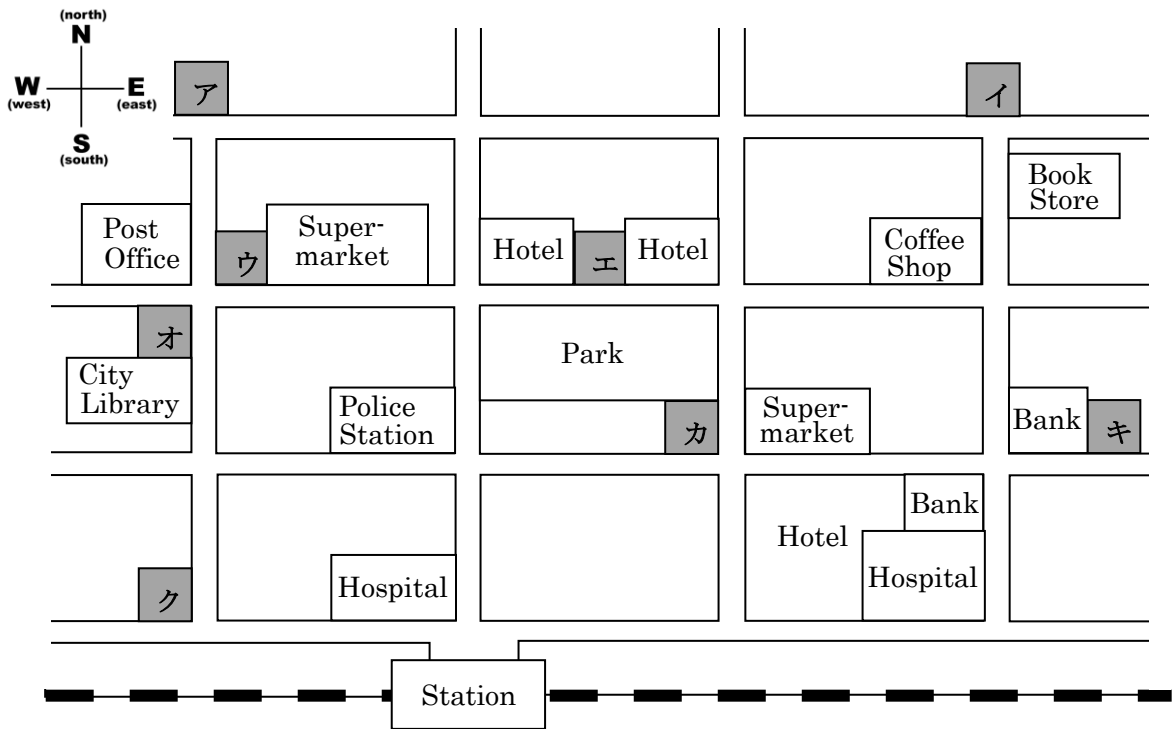

Report 4: Hiroshi Mizuki (friend)

I saw Yoshiko when I came out of the station at 8:55 a.m. She was riding a bike. She turned left at the hospital and went north. She was in a hurry.

Yoshiko's story

My friend, Emily, and I went to see a movie that day. We were going to meet at the flower shop near the park at 9:00 a.m., but I got up late that morning. It was already 8:50 a.m. I had only 30 minutes before the movie started, so I left home by bike. On my way to the flower shop, I saw some of my friends but I had no time to talk to them. I needed to meet Emily as soon as possible. Unfortunately, my old bike broke down in front of the police station and I had to push it to the bike shop. I left my bike there, and then I saw a supermarket next to it. I remembered Emily liked sweet things very much, so I thought buying her some chocolate was a good idea. When I arrived at the flower shop, Emily was very angry at me. The movie was going to start in five minutes, so I said to her, "I'm really sorry," and gave her my present. Opening the little bag, she looked so happy. "I promise not to be late again," I said. Then we ran to the theater and watched the movie. It was a very exciting movie and we enjoyed it a lot.

1. 次の 3 つの建物がある場所をそれぞれ地図中のア～クから 1 つずつ選び、記号で答えなさい。
 - (1) Flower shop
 - (2) Bike shop
 - (3) Movie theater

2. 次の質問に英語で答えなさい。
Why was Yoshiko late that day?

3. 本文の内容に合っているものには T、合っていないものには F と答えなさい。
 - (1) Yoshiko was running north when Hiroshi saw her at 8:55 a.m.
 - (2) Yoshiko bought some chocolate because Emily asked her to do so.
 - (3) Yoshiko got angry because Emily was not at the flower shop.
 - (4) Yoshiko and Emily watched a movie that started at 9:20 a.m.
 - (5) Yoshiko and Emily went to the bookstore after watching a movie.

[4] 次の文を読んで、あとの問いに答えなさい。(なお、本文は 2015 年 Kip Cates 氏によって書かれたもので、出題の都合上表現を一部変更している。)

The old year has gone. A new year has come. There's excitement in the air as we change our calendars, look to the future and prepare for another year.

But what year is it exactly? For most people, it's the year 2015. But this year has other names as well. According to the Muslim calendar, it's the year 1436. In the Jewish calendar, it's the year 5775. And in Japan, it's the 27th year of the Heisei era. Same year, but different names!

For most of us, the new year kicks off on January 1. In the countries using the lunar calendar, however, New Year's is celebrated in February. In Thailand, it's celebrated in April. And in Ethiopia, the new year actually begins in September!

Different countries celebrate their New Year in different ways. In Vietnam, people pay off their debts, avoid arguments and eat sticky rice cakes. In the United States, people watch football matches and parades on TV. In Iran, people clean their homes, visit friends and have family picnics in the countryside.

In Japan, people exchange New Year's cards, eat special foods and visit Shinto shrines to pray for good luck. And in China, people wear new clothes, set off firecrackers and give children red envelopes full of money. They also hide their knives and scissors so they don't "cut" their good luck for the coming year.

In many countries, January is the time for New Year's resolutions. These are special commitments that people make to improve themselves. Typical resolutions include getting more exercise, losing weight or starting a new hobby.

If you haven't made your New Year's resolutions yet, here are my suggestions:

- (1) Learn a new language! Make a commitment to study Spanish, learn Korean or master French.
- (2) Travel overseas! This year could be a great chance to take a trip to India, visit Egypt or go sightseeing in Mexico.
- (3) Adopt a global issue! Make the world a better place by volunteering for a charity, joining a human rights group or supporting an NGO working to eliminate landmines, poverty or world hunger.

This year includes three important anniversaries. It marks the 70th anniversary of the end of World War II, the 50th anniversary of establishing ties between Japan and South Korea, and the 20th anniversary of the Kobe earthquake. Let's use these anniversaries to remember the horrors of war, improve relations with our Asian neighbors and help victims of natural disasters in Japan and overseas.

The year 2015 is an exciting year full of promises and possibilities. It offers us the chance to make a fresh start and work for a brighter future.

So, happy New Year everyone! May this year bring you health, happiness, joy and success. Good luck with your resolutions. And remember — today is the first day of the rest of your life!
